STEWARDSHIP –
Among the compelling Eucharistic themes proclaimed in today's readings is the notion of "participation" as found in St. Paul's letter to the Corinthians. Good stewards are part of a Eucharistic family: loving, welcoming, serving. An important part of living as a steward comes about in the many ways we can participate in the life of the Church. No matter how much time we have to give, no matter what our skills or interests, no matter what our level of commitment, there is a way to participate as a good steward to enrich our lives and the lives of others to build up the Body of Christ.

FORTNIGHT FOR FREEDOM
June 21st to July 4th

Once again, the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops is encouraging Catholics across our country to enter into the period of the two weeks leading up to the Fourth of July with a strong focus on prayer, education and reflect on our first freedom, freedom of religion. The USCCB is offering Daily Reflections for each day of the Fortnight, A Question & Answer Resource, and much more. All of these items are available at www.dioceseofcleveland.org/freedom and www.Fortnight4Freedom.org.

On Friday, July 4th there will be a 10 am Mass at the Cathedral of St. John the Evangelist.

Karen's Corner

Did you know that the word "disciple" comes from the word for "student" in Latin and a student is one receiving discipline (instruction, training) from a Master teacher? An Apostle is a follower who takes the teacher's mission and message to others.

The number twelve is important in biblical history, referring back to the twelve tribes of Israel. The tribes were named after the sons of Jacob: Reuben, Simeon, Levi, Judah, Zebulun, Issachar, Dan, Gad, Asher, Naphtali, Ephraim and Manasseh, and Benjamin. The tribe of Joseph was divided according to his two sons, Ephraim and Manasseh. The twelve disciples were not well educated men. But the teaching, training and talents Jesus gave them made them an amazing force for God. They started the early Christian church and spread the gospel throughout their world, recorded in the book of Acts of the Apostles. Peter James and John were Jesus' most loyal and trustworthy disciples. They were present when Jesus raised Jairus's daughter from the dead and they were the three that Jesus let see him in his divine glory, talking with Moses and Elijah, both of whom had been dead for centuries. They were also present with Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane right before Jesus was arrested.

Jesus chose his followers without regard to their social class, their politics or their gender. His followers included Simon, a Zealot; Mathew, a tax collector; Nicodemus, a Pharisee; and many women such as Mary Magdalene, Mary and Salome.

At least five of the disciples were fishermen when they met Jesus. So he told the, "Follow me! I will teach you how to bring in people instead of fish." (Matthew 26:36-46)

So who were the twelve? Simon, son of John also called Peter, which means "rock". He was a fisherman from Bethsaida who denied Jesus three times, but became the first leader of the early church. Andrew, Peter's brother; led his brother Peter to Jesus and eagerly brought others to Him. James and John, sons of Zebedee; also called the sons of thunder. Both Fisherman who wanted fame early, but were very faithful. James was the first disciple to be martyred. (Acts 12:1-2) Philip, led Nathanael to Jesus; probably a fisherman from Bethsaida. Nathanael, also known as Bartholomew, from Cana; he first doubted, and then believed. "Can anything good come from Nazareth?" (John 14:8) Thomas, also known as Didymus (twin); needed to see proof of the risen Jesus for himself. Matthew, also called Levi; the tax collector. He was hated for his job, but said yes to Jesus right away. James, Son of Alphaeus; sometimes identified with "James the younger" in the gospel of Mark. Thaddeus, also called Judas, Jude, Judah; followed Jesus and asked him about God's unfolding plan. Simon the Zealot, not much is known about him. And finally, Judas Iscariot who betrayed Jesus and then took his own life. There is a brief history of the Twelve, and here is my question: are you a disciple, a student; or are you an Apostle, spreading the good news? I know which one I am striving to be!

See you soon! Karen
