STEWARDSHIP - In today's Gospel reading, Jesus brings up the topic of the cross to his followers. They would not realize the cross was part of God's plan and was to be their legacy until after the Resurrection. Today's followers of Christ recognize they are stewards of his entire legacy, including his cross; that through their mutual sacrifices God's glory is revealed. They don't live their life in Christ only when it is convenient for them. They make a decision to take up their cross and carry it, no matter what the cost. What crosses do we bear in order to reveal God's glory?

Karen's Corner

Did you know that in 1996, Fr. Alejandro Pezet had just finished distributing Communion, when a woman came up to him and told him a host had been left on a candleholder in the back of the Church? He was unable to consume the host because it had been defiled in some way, so he put it in a small container with water and left it in the tabernacle. Eight days later, when Fr. Pezet went to get the Host, it had turned into a bloody substance. He informed his bishop and the substance was photographed. The photos showed that the host had grown much larger and had become a fragment of bloody flesh. It was sent to New York where a time of forensic pathologists determined that the substance was real flesh and contained human DNA. The analyzed substance was a fragment of the heart muscle found in the wall of the left ventricle close to the valves. This muscle is responsible for the contraction of the heart. It should be said that the left heart ventricle pumps blood to all parts of the body. It was also said that the heart muscle is in an inflammatory condition and contained a large number of white blood cells. This tells us that the heart was alive at the time the sample was taken since white blood cells die outside a living organism.

There is more to this article and I have posted it on St. John's Facebook page. How and why this host changed its character to become living human flesh and blood is a total mystery to science, one that just cannot be explained. When I first read this, I thought WOW! It is through such wondrous signs God calls souls to conversion. If Jesus causes the Host to become visible flesh and blood, a muscle that is responsible for the contraction of a human heart—a heart that suffers like that of someone who has been beaten severely about the chest, if He does such things, it is in order to arouse and quicken our faith in His real presence in the Eucharist. He thus enables us to see that Holy Mass is a making present of the entire drama of our salvation: Christ's passion, death, and resurrection. There is no need to actively seek out wondrous signs. But if Jesus chooses to give them to us, then it would be best for us to accept them with meekness and seek to understand what He desires to tell us by them. Thanks to these signs, many people have discovered faith in God. Isn't that what the Church teaches us? That the Eucharist IS the body of blood of Jesus, but it stays in a form that we are able to consume to become one with Christ through our eating of His flesh and drinking of His blood. The Eucharist is the most important part of my faith, and I hope yours too.

See you soon!

Karen
