Dear Parishioners,

I am very grateful to our Holy Name Society for sponsoring a wonderful French Toast Breakfast, which was held last Sunday. According to the report which I received, 105 people attended the breakfast and the profit was $646.00. I am grateful to the people who responded by coming to our parish hall for this event. It is my hope that we may continue to build community among ourselves. I pray that we may always grow closer in our relationship with Jesus Christ and our relationships with one another.

This year we are celebrating "Friends-Giving" in our parish hall on Saturday, November 22nd at 5 pm. As Thanksgiving approaches, it is good to give thanks for our parishioners. An enjoyable evening is being planned with a social that includes light refreshments and live music. I am hoping that everyone could stop by our hall if only for a few minutes. We are called to be friends with one another. It is an opportunity to have a good time, to enjoy one another's company and to thank the people whom God has placed in our lives.

November 21, 2014 begins the Year of Consecrated Life. We will pray for all those in consecrated life, men and women religious, priests, brother and sisters at our masses the weekend of November 22nd and 23rd.

Our parish Thanksgiving Mass will take place Thursday, November 27th at 9 am. It is an opportunity for us to gather as a community and give thanks for God's many blessings. Please plan to attend.

If you wish, invite your family, relatives and friends to come with you. Bishop Richard Lennon has requested that he join us for the Thanksgiving Day Mass. He will be our main celebrant and homilist. He is looking forward to celebrating with us.

On Sunday, November 30th we will have an Advent Reflection at 12 Noon in our parish hall. Also, please consider registering for the upcoming Advent Retreat at Mary Queen of Peace Parish. The information for the retreat is in our bulletin.

Finally, on Monday, December 1st at 7 pm we will have our Advent Communal Penance Service. Four priests will be here to hear your confessions.

I am grateful to God for all of you and for all the good things that are happening in our Parish. I hope all of you are able to participate in our upcoming events.

Prayers & Best Wishes,
Father Jasany

improves education, housing situations and economic development for many in our neighborhoods. Envelopes for this collection are in your monthly envelope packet.

In today’s Gospel, Jesus delivers the parable of the talents; using the example of money rather than abilities or skills. It is a story about investments, risks and returns. Stewards understand that God has given them an abundance of spiritual gifts. They know God doesn’t want them to simply receive these blessings and bury them in fear, but to multiply them; to use these gifts to serve Him and others; to spread Christ’s Good News; to go and make disciples of others. Good stewards invest what God has given them in the service of others and are prepared to render an account when the Lord returns. Reflect this week on how you are returning your own God-given gifts back to God with increase.

May our prayers bring healing, comfort and strength to the sick and their

Karen's Korner

Did you know that it drives me crazy when people “cherry pick” the Bible or other church documents to “support” what they believe? The Bible was written to tell the story of salvation. In reading the Bible, you need to know when it was written and for whom it was written.

For example, the book of Deuteronomy is simply the last speech of Moses before his people entered the Promised Land. It was included for its historical value, yet people continue to be upset at some of the things that the book says! I mentioned Jeffrey Cavins series on the Bible and I really like the things he says. In particular, the 14 books that tell the story of salvation. I have begun a reading program to read these 14 book in 90 days, and I am really enjoying it. In May of 2015, I will be presenting Cavins' Bible class. People also use particular Bible verses for other reasons, but for everything, there are verses that are for and against just about any issue!

Going back to “cherry picking”, something was published two weeks ago that was not complete. I would like to present the complete quote to you. From the book “Rebuilt” by Rev. Michael White and Tom Corcoran. They say, “Gregorian chant, the music proper to the Roman liturgy, powerfully anchors our weekend experience in our tradition, [here's the part that was omitted] we use it for the acclamations of the Eucharistic prayer and sometimes as an introit and counterpoint to the opening or Communion music.” The rest of the quote was fine.

Unfortunately, because only part of the quote was used, it appears that Fr. White supports using Gregorian Chant for the entire liturgy, whereas if you read the part that was left out, he is saying that his parish uses it sparingly to infuse the services with the spirit of mystery inherent in the Roman liturgy. I agree with Fr. White. I believe that the use of the chant sparingly can and does enhance the celebration of the Liturgy. But as Fr. White says in a later paragraph, “We're not fans of a quiet weekend Mass, but the deliberate and creative use of silence can dramatically enhance the worship experience.”

Reading the Bible, the documents of Vatican II and other books are wonderful, but we need to step back and look at “The Big Picture”. What is being said throughout these books and documents? There are over 200 statements made in the Vatican II document “Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy.” Things are said about music, participation, ministers etc. But the biggest part of the document is full and active participation by the congregation. If this is not happening, if the congregation feels that Liturgy is not enhancing their spiritual life, they will leave and find another church that will. My suggestion? If you don't like something about liturgy, tell the musicians and Fr. Jasany. Cherry picking from books, documents and the Bible is not good for anyone. All I can say is that the sources are there for us to enhance our spiritual life, not to be used to “prove” a point. There's nothing to prove. The Bible is a love story, and I for one, am totally in love with the Lord!

Join me on Friday, November 21, 2014 to watch “Romero”, the story of the assassinated Archbishop Oscar Romero.

See you soon! Karen
